STAY CURRENT

Subscription Service members have free access to testing and certification for the Certified SolidWorks Associate (CSWA) and the Certified SolidWorks Professional (CSWP) credentials during the subscription year. These certifications validate that the SolidWorks user has obtained either baseline (CSWA) or advanced (CSWP) expertise in the world's most widely adopted 3D CAD software. Subscription members also have access to a free management report that shows exam performance, identifying skill areas that can be improved and making recommendations on how to achieve productivity gains by using SolidWorks more efficiently.
